A BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

Ice Gorges in Michigan—The President Receives the Army and Navy.

(Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, February 10.—The adjourned conference between the representatives of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Panama Railroad Company to agree on a settlement of differences, was held this morning. President Houston and Director Edward Lantierbach represented the Pacific Mail and Messrs. Seligman, McCulloch, Ellis and DeCosta the Panama Railroad Company. The compromise proposed yesterday was agreed to by both companies. It provides for a settlement of the outstanding claim of the Panama railway of $530,000 by the payment of $100,000 in lieu of monthly payments of $70,000 for transportation across the isthmus heretofore charged the Pacific Mail by the Panama Company. There will be paid $55,000 per month and the Pacific Mail Company allowed to reduce its service in any way it chooses, instead of being compelled to run a steamer every week, as was provided under the terms of the old contract. The Panama alone will save the Pacific Mail fifty thousand dollars a month. The saving in other items for the unexpired seven years on the old agreement, which the new contract takes the place of, amounts to over $1,000,000. The Pacific Mail directors, after the meeting, stated that no negotiations for a Pacific Mail line from the transcontinental line were being considered. One of them predicted an advance of rates before the end of the week.

A STEAMER SUNK.

She Comes in Contact With a Mass of Ice.

NEW YORK, February 10.—The British steamer Wells City, which arrived from Bristol at 4 o'clock this morning, came into collision off her pier with a floating river of ice, which stove in her hull and filled rapidly and sank. The officers and crew were rescued and taken ashore. She had a cargo of tin roofing plates, ironware, iron rails and petroleum barrel, consigned to different parties. The Wells City had anchored in the stream at the foot of West Twenty-sixth street. Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning an immense ice float came down with the tide and caught her. She did not have steam up and was carried down the river dragging her anchor for more than a mile and half, resisting all efforts to stop her. Opposite Christopher street the steamer Lone Star was anchored. The Wells City drifted broadside upon her bow and was struck by the cut water of the Lone Star, knocking a hole in her hull. The crew of twenty-three men and the captain took to the boats before the steamer sank. She was valued at $150,000 and her cargo was valued at $140,000. She will be raised.

ICE GORGES.

Several Michigan Towns Experience Overflows.

LYONS, Mich., February 10.—Lyons is a sea of ice. Grand River rose during the night about four feet and an ice gorge formed just below the city. The whole business part of the town is under water and great damage has been sustained. The loss will reach into the thousands. Several families have been driven out of their dwellings. Others took to the upper stories. The ice gorge covers an area of about four hundred acres and is estimated at about twenty feet high in places. All mails are shut off from the north and west.

OSASCO, Mich., February 10.—Ice in the Shawano River, jammed below the Main street bridge and the water, already high, is rising gradually. All of the factories along the river have been obliged to close.

A RECEPTION.

The President Entertains the Army and Navy.

WASHINGTON, February 10.—The President's reception to the Army and Navy to-night was more largely attended than any of those which have preceded it. The State parlors and corridors were handsomely and elaborately decorated with tropical fruits and palms. The East room was a shifting panorama of gay costumes in an exquisite setting of handsome decorations, and near the center of the east wall of the room was a bower of tropical plants, reaching almost to the ceiling. On the other side, and along the other wall, palms and potted plants were tastefully arranged. On the mantels of the west wall of the room were placed small dark green plants facing banks of cut flowers on the opposite mantels. The four large white and gilt columns of the room were twined round with smilax. The officers of the army and navy were present in large numbers and the diplomatic corps had numerous representatives. The President and Mrs. Cleveland were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Eastcott and Mrs. Viles, while Miss Cleveland, Miss Van Vleet and a number of others occupied the space immediately behind the receiving party. Mrs. Cleveland was charmingly attired in a dress of pale blue silk.

Nominally Asked.

NEW YORK, February 10.—The Star's London cablegram says: Germany, according to a dispatch from Berlin, has asked France for a formal declaration of neutrality in the event of war in the East. In Downing street the statement is partly confirmed. The communication, however, was unofficial and put in the way of a suggestion leading up to a friendly understanding between France and Germany. The whole situation points to the East as probably the first scene of warlike operations.

Manning's New Bank.

NEW YORK, February 10.—The Western National Bank was organized yesterday, by the election of Secretary Manning as President, United States Treasurer Jordan as Vice President and F. Blankenhorn as Cashier.

CONGRESSIONAL WORK.

Many of the Appropriation Bills Incomplete.

WASHINGTON, February 10.—The substitution of Hammond for Tucker as a member of the conference committee on the Anti-Polygamy Bill will not, it is believed, cause any delay in consideration of that measure. The conferees will meet to-morrow, and the indications are that an argument will then be reached on a bill similar in its principles and provisions to that passed by the House.

Nineteen working days remain to the present Congress. Thirteen annual appropriation bills (including the river and harbor bill) are not yet ready to go to the President; ten remain to be acted upon by the Senate; nineteen require the action of Senate Committees; five have not passed the House, and two have yet to make their initial step from the House to the committee. In addition to these last year's fortification bill yet lingers in conference.

A Defunct Thief.

BOUND BROOK, N. J., February 10.—During thieves tried to enter the Post Office here last night. They were discovered by the Railroad Agent, and heat once opened fire upon them. One of the thieves was shot but managed to get to the Karitan river, where he jumped in, hoping to escape by swimming to the other side. Loss of blood weakened him, and the icy water benumbed him so, that when he was a few feet from the shore he sank with a despairing cry and was drowned. A pal of the drowned thief made a desperate struggle for freedom, but was overpowered and taken into custody. The robbers were members of the same gang who entered the Jersey City Post Office a few days ago, bound the watchman and janitor and then tried to rob the safe.

"Christ Before Filate" Sold.

NEW YORK, February 10.—A Philadelphia dispatch says: C. Z. Delaney, who represents M. Munkacz in the sale of his pictures, said to-day: Munkacz's great picture of "Christ before Filate" will remain in the United States. There have been offers from different parties during the last week, one from a well known art amateur in the West, and another from John Wanamaker of Philadelphia. The latter purchased it from me at the highest price ever paid for a modern painting.

A MURDEROUS COUSIN.

He Shoots His Female Relative in the Head.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., February 10.—A remarkable case of attempted suicide or murder has come to light here. Mary C. Anderson, a handsome young woman, about seventeen years of age, enjoying a good reputation, left her home on Monday night. On Tuesday morning she was found in the outskirts of town with a bullet hole in her head. She was removed to her home where she now lies in a dying condition. She has been unconscious ever since and could, therefore, make no statement as to the shooting. A revolver was found on the ground about 100 yards from her, one chamber being empty. The revolver belongs to her cousin, Barclay Peake, who was very friendly with her. Peake was arrested on Tuesday and held to answer for the crime. It is stated that the girl committed suicide. At the preliminary examination to-day it was proved that they were out walking together in the locality where the girl was found. Peake was committed to await the result of the girl's injuries. A special to the Times from Mount Holly, New Jersey, late to-night, says that Miss Anderson had recovered consciousness and had told her story of the affair. She asserts that Barclay Peake and herself were taking a stroll through the neighborhood when he made improper propositions to her, and after she repulsed his advances he shot her.

AN INHUMAN MOTHER.

She Cuts off the Head of Her Offspring.

HARTFORD, Conn., February 10.—A few days ago a young woman named Rose Daly went to West Suffield from East Granley, where she had been living as a servant, to visit a family named Burns. In the temporary absence of Mrs. Burns the girl is said to have given birth to an illegitimate child, whose life she then sacrificed. As the facts are related the mother arose and taking her offspring with her, went to an out-house, walking over a snowy path and her stooping feet, and attempted to strangle it. Falling in this she went back to the house and with a table knife cut off the infant's head and put it in the stove, while she took the mutilated body down into the cellar, where she left it. Mrs. Burns returning soon afterwards discovered by an offensive smell that something was wrong, and opening the stove was shocked by seeing the babe's head in the fire. She snatched it out, crisp and blackened on one side. The wretched mother's recovery is considered doubtful.

Moving Smoothly.

NEW YORK, February 10.—Along the river front to-day there was no indication of any difficulty exists between the longshoremen and the railroad and steamship lines. At the railroad piers the loading of cars on floats was being carried on with regularity and at the coastwise and southern port steamship companies all evidences of the recent struggle were obliterated.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, February 10.—The Senate has agreed to the House substitute for the Chinese Indemnity Bill. The President sent the following nomination to the Senate to-day, to be Indiana agent at the Colorado river agency, Arizona: Geo. W. Baser, of Illinois.

Lincoln's Hearse Burned.

THE COAST.

A Fatal Fire in San Francisco.

A STRICT DYNAMITE BILL.

The Patti Explosion the Work of a Crank—The San Joaquin Rancho.

(Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, February 10.—A fire broke out this morning at 619 Post street, occupied as a Chinese laundry and Japanese fancy store. The fire communicated to a residence adjoining on the west. The wash-house suddenly collapsed, burying a number of firemen. John Wilkinson, fireman, was killed, and three others are believed to be fatally injured. It is supposed that several Chinamen are among the runs.

DYNAMITE BILL.

A Stringent Law Against the Deadly Explosive.

SACRAMENTO, February 10.—The Senate Judiciary committee to-night strengthened Vrooman's dynamite bill and made its provisions more severe. The amount to be forfeited for each failure to keep a record of sales of dynamite explosives was raised from $100 to $250. Any person may bring an action in court against a violator of the law. The bill provides that any citizen could inform and instead of giving him one-half the amount, the person is to receive the whole. Such action can only be dismissed by consent of the court. Any person recklessly having in his or her possession such explosives in a public place, or who endeavors to terrify or intimidate others with them, is to be subject to imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year or for life. The possession of dynamite explosives, except in the regular course of business, was made a felony, instead of a misdemeanor, as in the bill, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail or State prison not more than five years, or a fine not exceeding $5000, or both. Any person maliciously exploding dynamite or nitroglycerine in a public place may be imprisoned for life in the penitentiary, the phrase "not less than one year" being used. The bill provided that any member of the police force might sue for forfeitures, and this was altered to any officer or policeman. The committee will recommend that the bill be amended by making a special order and be advanced on the file.

THE PATTI EXPLOSION.

The Bomb Thrown by a Crank Without Definite Purpose.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 10.—All of the papers to-day contain long accounts of the explosion of the can of powder at the Patti concert last night. Later investigation shows that the crank, Dr. Hodges, who threw it, had evidently no distinct purpose in view, but simply wanted to create a disturbance. The excitement has now mostly died away, owing to so little damage resulting, and has given place to astonishment that a fanatic was so stupid. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity and every aisle was filled with spectators. A fortunate circumstance, and one which no doubt contributed to some extent to prevent a stampede, was that the explosion occurred just as the applause was at its most vociferous and partially deadened the explosion. Had the spectators lost their heads and a rush been made for the doors, there is little doubt but that many would be now mourning for their dead.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

SACRAMENTO, February 10.—The special order for 2:30 was Clinton's Anti-Compact Insurance Bill. When the bill was called up a motion was made that it go over, which caused Senator Clinton to make a strong plea in favor of immediate action. The bill was finally read the second time, when the committee amendments were adopted. The third reading was made the special order for next Tuesday morning.

The bill appropriating $30,000 for the State Mining Bureau was finally passed by a vote of 32 to 5. Senate bill 192, appropriating $80,004 for the support of the Industrial Home of the Mechanical Trades for Adult Blind came up for second reading, when a motion was made to reduce to $30,000 the $85,000 proposed in the substitute. Senator White said that he should oppose the bill, as his country had always taken, and would continue, unless prevented, to take good care of its unfortunate at less than Palace Hotel rates. The provision appropriating $65,000 was retained, and the amendment providing for a new directory of the institution was adopted. Several other amendments were made and the Senate adjourned.

THE ASSEMBLY.

McDonnell's fish and game bill, No. 124, was amended on Varlet's motion, by giving the Supervisors of the different counties power to extend or shorten the close season.

The San Joaquin Rancho.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 10.—In an interview with Col. F. Crocker, regarding a dispatch reporting the purchase of the San Joaquin Rancho by the Southern Pacific, he denied that the purchase had been consummated. He admitted that negotiations are under way, but says that if the purchase be made at all, it will not be effected for several days yet. The purpose, he says, that the Southern Pacific has in making the purchase is the institution of a large tract of land in the direction of the Irvine estate confirmed the statement of Mr. Crocker that negotiations were in progress for the purchase, but that the sale has not been made.

A Volcano Resumes.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 10.—Hawaiian advice just received in this city state that the volcano of Mauna Loa, on Hawaii Island, is again active. Activity is presumed on the 16th of last month. A great many earthquakes have taken place at Hilo. The lava has run a great distance in the direction of Kahuaka, and is making way toward the sea.

The Wine Bill.

SACRAMENTO, February 10.—The Committee on Viticulture of both Houses held a joint meeting to-night to consider the Combs bill to prevent the adulteration of wine and substitute a bill prepared by the District Wine-Growers' Convention at San Francisco. Charles A. Wetmore was present and pointed out the defects in both measures. Let us hear from Mr. Eare favoring the Combs bill, with amendments to make it more stringent, from Arpad Haraszthy favoring the substitute bill, and from George West, of Stockton, against the bill, were read.

A NEW BUILDING SOCIETY.

Who Articles of Incorporation will be Filed To-day.

A number of citizens met last night at the City Council rooms for the purpose of organizing the Columbia Loan and Building Society, Dr. Kurtz occupying the Chair. The articles of incorporation were read and approved. The purpose stated in them is that the association will erect buildings for its members and loan money to them to enable them to acquire or improve their real estate. The principal place of business is to be Los Angeles, and the capital stock will consist of $1,000,000, divided into 5,000 shares of $200 each. Last night 100 shares representing $20,000 were subscribed. The election of Directors was then proceeded with, and Messrs. J. Kurtz, L. Gottschalk, W. F. Bosbyshell, L. Lichtenberg, C. B. Pironi, Chas. L. Strang, J. C. Oliver, J. J. Schaller and A. Williams were elected. The articles of incorporation will be filed to-day with the County Clerk.

Mr. Knapp's Art Lectures.

The subject for Wednesday afternoon was "Grecian Art." This lecture was even more fascinating than the first; and though getting about as little easier than on Monday, there was a much larger audience. The Grecian architecture and sculpture of the three great national periods was illustrated by a fine series of stereopticon views. Refinement is the central idea of Greek art. Although Grecian architecture is more true to law than that of any other nation, it was a principle with all art workers of this subtle-witted race that "a slight discord enhances the harmony." The architect of the Church of the Madeleine at Paris failed to grasp this truth in his imported, particular, and neglected to make his corner pillars larger than the others. The result is that they look a good deal smaller.

Mr. Knapp will lecture on Friday on Medieval Art, and on Saturday and Sunday, the Great Italian Masters of the time, place, fee, etc., see the advertising columns.

A Bungled Case.

John Ryan was committed by Justice Austin on the charge of burglary, on the 9th of October, 1886, and in default of bail looked up in the county jail. The original papers issued by the Justice, which should have been filed in the County Clerk's office, were either never forwarded or else mislaid. At any rate the prisoner has remained in jail ever since October without there being any information filed against him by the District Attorney during the last administration. Ryan was yesterday brought up before Judge Cheney in Department No. 1 of the Superior court on a writ of habeas corpus, and discharged from custody under the provisions of the law, which requires that a defendant shall be discharged if no information is filed within thirty days after the commitment is made out. Ryan was one of the men alleged to have stolen goods in Chinatown the night of the fire in Negro alley last year.

The Charity Ball.

Next Thursday evening the grand charity ball under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society takes place at Armory Hall. This will be the most delightful social event of the season and the object is so laudable that everybody who attends will feel as if he were contributing to a noble cause as well as having a splendid evening. There will probably be more elegant dressing at the charity ball than was ever seen on a similar occasion in Los Angeles. The dry goods houses have been ransacked for rare fabrics and the dressmakers nearly driven distracted by the importunities of fair customers, each determined to outshine the other. Mr. H. McLean will have charge of the floor with an able corps of assistants and this makes it certain that the dancing arrangements will be perfect. Tickets admitting gentlemen and one lady are $3 and 50 cents will be charged for each additional lady.

Incorporations.

The Pasadena Steam Laundry Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The stockholders and directors are Robert Smith, J. C. McCroight, Estelle McCroight, Benj. E. Ball, Mary Smith. The capital is $10,000, divided into 100 shares.

LABOR TROUBLE.

Assembly 49 Breaks Out Afresh.

A BLOW AT BITTER BEER.

Over Ten Thousand Employees of Breweries Ordered to go Out on a Strike.

(Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, February 10.—The Evening News' extra says: District Assembly 49 put on an additional coat of war paint at its conference early this morning and ordered everybody in the beer, ale and porter breweries in this city, Yonkers, Jersey City, Brooklyn, Staten Island and Paterson, as well as members of the eccentric association of stationary engineers employed in the different factories within its jurisdiction. The order is to go into effect to-morrow and it is estimated that the number of men who will stop work in the breweries alone will amount to 12,000. The number of those who will be thrown out by the strike of engineers will run far into the thousands. No exact general estimate can be formed at present, but it is certain that if they do quit a majority of the big factories will have to close down. Forty-nine claims that on the strength of assurances that arrangements were being made for arbitration of the coal troubles, it rested on its oars and lost some ground. Now it intends to regain that ground and get some more members. The 49 Executive board say they have positive information that some of the coal companies are pressed for loans on National banks and believe with the arrangements they are making in connection with the stopping of work of the employees of the breweries and engineers, the demand for coal will grow so limited that the coal companies will be glad to come to terms. The ostensible reason for these strikes is that the breweries and other manufacturers are using "scab" coal. To a reporter a high official of 49 said this afternoon: "You can say that all of the stories that the strike was on the point of disrupting and coming to an end have been made through a misunderstanding manufactured out of whole cloth. District 49 had simply ceased from pushing matters under an idea that the coal companies were about to have all differences settled by arbitration. We have been undecided on that point and now we intend to renew the battle with vengeance, nor will the extension of the strike stop with the measures to be carried out to-morrow. If necessary we shall call out our men in other lines. District 49 is now determined to fight the battle to the bitter end and instead of meeting defeat we are more than ever confident of achieving success. He added that the settlement with the Reading road had not yet been sanctioned by forty-nine, and he was doubtless made with the understanding that Corbin was to get other companies to come to the same terms. He said it was coming to be seen whether E. Quinn, Master Workman of District Assembly 49, and Victor Drury, went to Boston last night. They are to confer with District Assembly 30, of Massachusetts, in relation to the strike. The Knights in Massachusetts may be called out wherever scab coal is used.

Advices from Algeria.

BERLIN, February 10.—Advices from Algiers, published in the Kreuz Zeitung, have caused much excitement here. The dispatches say a number of general and staff officers have left Algiers to assume commands in France. That four battalions of the Twelfth Army Corps, stationed at Algiers have been ordered to hold them selves in readiness to embark. Preparations are being made at different ports to expedite the shipment of troops. Territorial troops, the dispatches say, are to take the place of the battalions leaving Algiers. The Imperial bank to-day placed for sale on the Bourse treasury certificates to the amount of 30,000,000 marks.

MONROVIA'S DAY.

Enterprising Business Men Determined to Show off the Town.

Next Monday, St. Valentine's Day, will be a great day for Monrovia. This town has sprung up within the past six months and has now the credit of being the prettiest town in the county. The business men have arranged for a grand excursion next Monday just to let the people in Los Angeles see the place and surrounding country. There will be a auction sale and every real estate office in the town will be closed. The excursion will be over the L. A. & S. G. V. R. and will leave Downey avenue depot at 9:30 A. M. sharp on Monday, February 14th, returning at 6 P. M. Tickets for the round trip will cost only $1, including free lunch to the excursionists in one of the beautiful oak groves, near Monrovia, and a free ride among the orange groves of the great foothill citrus foot belt of the San Gabriel Valley. For this purpose forty carriages have been engaged. The San Bernardino and Los Angeles branch of the Santa Fe railroad system will soon run through this charming section of country, when the already rapid growth will receive an impetus that will soon make it another Pasadena.

CARLETON.

The Light Opera Attraction for Next Week.

There will be an unusual rush at the Grand Opera House this morning at the opening of the sale of seats for the Carleton Opera Company. There were very many applications yesterday, but they were refused by Manager Wyatt. An exception was made in favor of a prominent society lady who took a box for every performance. It is quite natural that much interest should be taken in the advent of the Carleton Opera Company. Los Angeles always liberally accepts a first-class attraction. The Carleton Company is preceded by the reputation of a very superior organization. It has been heard by very many residents of this city in San Francisco, while a large proportion of the tourists in town have heard it in the Eastern cities. It will produce two novelties, "Nanon" and "Ermine." The former was given at the Baldwin Theater last season for four weeks to the largest patronage ever bestowed upon a light or comic opera in San Francisco. Mr. Carleton was entrusted by Gilbert and Sullivan with the production of the "Mikado" on the Pacific Coast, and its success did not surpass that of "Nanon" simply because the capacity of the theater was exhausted at every performance of both operas. The Carleton company is the only traveling opera troupe authorized to present the operas produced at the New York Casino, and it goes from here to San Francisco to produce "Ermine" and it will give no other opera during its four weeks season there. "Ermine" has been running for over a year at the New York Casino and it is unquestionably the most popular opera produced in New York since the first days of Pinafore. It is a veritable opera. Newsboys and stockbrokers whistle and sing its airs, and young ladies drum them out on the piano. Emma Abbott sings the "Lullaby" from it and gave it here during her recent engagement. Its catchy music is fully equalled by its fun, and it is declared by the critics to be the most laughter-provoking comic opera ever written. What seems to astonish the critics more than anything else is Carleton himself, or rather the versatility he displays in his work in "Ermine." So long as he was known as the conscientious and artistic singer of heroic and romantic roles that it was never suspected that he was the comedian who could evoke a scream of laughter by his legitimate comedy acting as one of the thieves in "Ermine," yet such he is, according to the verdict of the critics. The company is always commended for the richness and elegance of the costumes and mountings, and splendid scenery. Their repertoire for the season can be found in the advertising columns, and it seems now as if every opera would be listened to by a crowded house.

A Knight of the Hypodermic.

Walter Bell, son of John C. Bell, the auctioneer, applied at 7 o'clock last night at police headquarters for permission to speak with a prisoner named George Smith, who is undergoing a thirty days' sentence for having used hypodermic injections of morphine in an opium den. Captain Tyler demurred, owing to the lateness of the hour, but at the earnest solicitation of Bell allowed him a couple of minutes of conversation with Smith. Bell then offered the prisoner two packs of cigarettes. Something in his manner struck the Captain, and he took the cigarettes away. One package contained a package of morphine. Bell was then searched, and a hypodermic syringe, as well as a small filled bottle of morphine were found upon him. He was booked on the charge of giving poisonous drugs to a prisoner and locked up.

The Losses.

By the fire on Wednesday night Ulrich Knock claims to have lost about $4,000, mostly his type, stones, forms, stock, etc. His presses were in another room separate from the composing room, and were little damaged. He was insured for $3,800, of which $1,500 was in the California Southern Company. This was on the press and engine and this loss was settled at $35. His other losses will not be covered by $1,600 in the Hartford and $800 in the Bowery of New York.

On the Templeton establishment the loss is said to be nearly as heavy as on Knock's office. He has $1,500 insurance in the California Southern Company. This risk is also on the machinery, which, like the other office, is little injured. The company will lose in all about $300. The insurance on Templeton's other losses will probably cover his damage.

Elements of Right and of the Law.

Mr. George H. Smith, of Los Angeles, has given a second edition of his able work to the public. His work is entirely out of the ordinary run of law books. He is somewhat original in some of his views. His historical and critical essays upon the several theories of jurisprudence is original, bold, and aggressive. He does his own thinking, and discards traditions, myths and fictions. He lays as a cardinal principle the pursuit of scientific truth does the dead body with his heartless knife. Mr. Smith is a fine writer. He caters the fields long occupied by Bentham and Maine and Austin. The ability displayed in this book justifies the author's claiming intellectual kinship with those great minds. A work like this from an American author, and that, too, a Western lawyer, is "a herald of glad tidings." American jurisprudence will soon take high rank in the studies of the Continental jurists. The author has done just enough to demonstrate that he can do much more, and, in justice to himself and his native land, ought to do all that he can in this field of legal thought. We shall be glad to see other books from his able pen.—Louisville Courier Journal.

"Zitka."

Owing to the stoppage of the rain and the slightly improved condition of the streets the attendance at the Grand Opera House was measurably increased last night at the third performance of "Zitka." The acting was much more even than on the first night, and as the play is very interesting, notwithstanding its objectionable foundation—some of the tableaux being really striking, it met with considerable success. "Zitka" will be given again to-night and to-morrow night, which will conclude the season of this company in Los Angeles.

Work on the Great Herald illustrated Annual is well under way. It will be pushed forward with great vigor to completion. This issue of the illustrated Herald will by far outstrip any of the superb editions of former years. Our patrons, as usual, have really crowded their favors on us with their usual liberality. But, this game has no limit, as page after page may be added. Those who have secured space in it already will confer a favor by furnishing the "copy" with all reasonable promptness; and those who desire space, but have not yet secured it, should do so at once. We hope to issue the edition by the first proximo.

Speaking of the "young giant" of the South, the San Francisco Evening Post says:

Los Angeles is the new California. The spirit that rules her glowing life is the spirit that is destined to pervade the State. Already its influence is penetrating to every corner and distributing the lethargy of a generation.

Thus the energy, enterprise and the leadership of Los Angeles in the new awakening on this coast is beginning to be recognized by intelligent newspapers. Let the cities of the north copy after us—reach out for a fresh infusion of life and brains from the East, and they will receive, as they deserve, their reward.

The difference between the way in which the Sacramento Record-Union and the Evening Bee treat the prosperity of this section, is the difference that can be distinguished between the treatment of any subject by a gentleman of liberal principles and one of contracted and selfish prejudices. The Bee is constant in its abuse of Los Angeles, whilst the Union takes a large and liberal view of our progress, as witness this extract from its leading article on Wednesday:

We can entertain no jealousy of our brother of the South. The small-minded and rural journalism that bounds its comprehension of force by vituperation and misrepresentation, beats only the back alleys of civilization. In the achievements of the people of the south, we see but the march of the State to the goal of its highest ambition.

A ship has just arrived in San Francisco from Hamburg with 150 casks of cherry juice, which is colored by poisonous aniline dyes. This cargo is imported by the wine adulterators, now so extensively engaged in San Francisco in imitating with our California wines the popular brands of France. Mr. Chas. A. Wetmore asserted in his remarks before the Viticultural Association a few days ago, that 76,000 gallons of aniline cherry juice were imported to San Francisco in 1886. He was severely taken to task about the assertion at the time; but now comes Mr. Charles C. Leavitt, adjutant of the San Francisco Customs House, and says that Mr. Wetmore's statement was true. Pure California wine is now passing through a crucial trial. It is adulterated at the East and passed over to the consumer as California wine after it has been doctored and cheapened; and here it is disguised and falsified, and sold at the East as a foreign brand. The wine-growers of this State ought certainly to have legislative relief from the men who are destroying their industry.

Our neighbor, the Tribune, has a very good article opposing the repeal of the tax on whisky and tobacco. The high protective tariff men are at the bottom of this movement to ease off the glut of receipts in the Treasury so that there may hereafter be no excuse for scaling down the tariff. Our contemporary says:

Manifestly, the surplus in the National Treasury is too large, and it ought to be reduced; but by all means let the reduction fall where it will do the greatest good to the greatest number—let it be made by exempting those articles from the operation of our tariff laws that are used every day in the year by the majority of our people. Let the free list be enlarged; let the duty be removed from lumber, salt, sugar and other necessities; articles that can be produced at a profit despite foreign competition, but let not Congress hold out any inducement to increase the use of such articles as whisky by making them cheaper than they are already by the removal of the internal revenue.

These are pretty near our sentiments; and their practical enforcement would lead to the consummation of that grand Democratic maxim—"a tariff for revenue only." We welcome our neighbor into the charmed circle which includes the fairness and the brains of the country, whether they belong to the Democratic or Republican side of the political house.

Major Ben. Truman, who is always using his graceful pen for the benefit of California, has contributed a very interesting article to the New York Times on the subject of vine culture and wine production in California. In this article he has grouped together a mass of valuable statistics showing the progress of this great industry, and giving the reader at a glance its present proportions. He says that in 1886 the number of acres planted to vines in California was 119,730, two-thirds of which have been put out since 1880. This would give us 94,480,000 vines in bearing, or nearly so. Of the 119,730 acres 91,043 are planted in wine grapes, 19,199 in table grapes and 4,488 in raisin grapes. The vine interest alone represents a capital of $68,000,000, and gives employment directly to 90,000 men. The Stanford vineyard in Tehama county, contains 3,825 acres—the largest vineyard in the world. The next is the Nadeau vineyard, in this county, which contains a little over 2,000 acres. This fine exhibit of the extent of our vineyard interest will give the reader an idea of the rapid progress the industry has made within a very few years, for prior to 1880, the production of wine was only a little over 5,000,000 gallons, whilst in 1886 it reached 19,000,000. But large as this production appears to be, it is a mere bagatelle when we compare it with the wine industry of France. The area devoted to the vine in that country is 5,146,783 acres, and before the phylloxera so devastated its vineyards, the annual production of wine was little less than one billion gallons. We may see from this comparison the great strides we have to make before coming anywhere near France in wine production. The falling off since 1884, on account of the phylloxera, has been about 300,000,000 gallons yearly, and California has the opportunity, rarely offered in the history of the staple productions of a country, to build up this new industry by making up to the commerce of the world the loss sustained by France. Our capacity in land to produce wine grapes is so far ahead of that of France that we should be able within the next decade to bring our wine production up to a point that will make up for the decrease on account of the pest in France. But in order to do this our wines must have fair play. They must be protected from the injurious practices of the sophisticators, both in this State and the East, and be permitted to reach the consumer in their purity. Unless this is accomplished the vines of our State will lose their identity in the markets of the world, and although they will be drunk with delight from Paris to Spain, yet they will not be known as California productions. The pure wine bill before the Legislature at present would do something towards the protection of our juices from the adulteration now carried on here with impunity, and the measure now before Congress, if passed, would extend that protection, so that our infant industry would have the chance of expansion it is entitled to.

There seems to be no let up on the State Engineer fight. Between him and Senator Langford there is an old grudge, but "Ben" puts it in another form and says he is neither use nor ornament to the State. He takes in his $300 per month and tells the people he is making irrigation maps which will be of great use in the future. But Langford cannot see it in that light, and wants his scalp; but "Ben" will not be able to get away with it this session, and he has no chance. I would suggest that the Los Angeles papers advise Mr. Brierly in a quiet way to try and get down to regular business and not to waste the time of the people—to say nothing of his money—in the future. It would be better if he could only keep quiet on the floor, for he accomplishes simply nothing by his flow of gusto. It is always well to remember the old adage: "A close mouth makes a wise head if there is any substance in the inside. I have a great regard for the gentleman, but it is painful to hear him talk."

The Election Committee held a long session to-night. The case was submitted, and the committee will report about next Monday. The general feeling is that Ryland will get the seat. He has proved beyond a doubt that the deplorable case of Santa Clara perpetrated the most outrageous frauds at the polls. The contest between Start and Williams will be taken up to-night.

LEGISLATIVE.

The "Herald's" Letter from Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, February 9th.

To-day is the twenty-seventh day of the session, and the question may be asked, "What has been done during the time?" The only answer that can be given is nothing—virtually nothing! It is true attempts have been made to do something, but the eloquence stored up in some of these legislative "wind-bags" must find vent; and God help those who are obliged to stay and listen to it.

In the Assembly to-day your correspondent was unhappy enough to be present at one of these outbreaks of eloquence. The subject was on McGowan's bill relative to new newspapers. Brierly of Los Angeles took an active part in the debate, and from the tenor of his argument the papers of Los Angeles must have been hauling him over the coals before the election. He referred to the press of Los Angeles as a lot of pirates, whose only avocation, as he would make it appear, is to throttle any Republican on the eve of an election. His harangue did not seem to have any effect, however, for the bill was defeated, and to-day a strong fight was made for a reconsideration of the bill, but the attempt to refer was defeated. Knox, of Los Angeles, advocated the reference of the bill, and claimed that if it could be passed it would be a great protection to the press of this State. McGowan, the author of the bill, came from Humboldt and is very anxious that something should be done to protect the men who have political aspirations. He did not want a paper to attack a man just on the eve of an election, and by so doing prove his election. All was to no avail, for the members of the Assembly who know the duty of public journals protested against any measure whatever that would have a tendency to curtail the liberty of the press.

The Irrigation Committee, after a long session of night work, has finally arrived at a plan by which the irrigation problem may be put into operation. Senator White has left no stone unturned to arrive at the best method to put this knotty question at rest. Senator Abbott's bill has been reported back to the Senate, with the recommendation that it do pass as amended. This bill will give entire satisfaction to the people of the southern part of the State, who are interested in this great question. Senator White, who has spent a great deal of labor in bringing it as near as possible to a satisfactory solution, is of the opinion that the bill as amended will give the people a great relief in this direction.

Lieutenant-Governor Waterman has returned from San Francisco, where he went to recuperate after the attack made upon him by the Stockton paper. He told your correspondent that he never had such a time in his life as he did in San Francisco during the snow storm. He said while in the act of getting into a car some of his admirers were so glad to see him that they made an onslaught on him with snowballs, but he took it in good part and did not fall back on his official position for protection, but stood like a plain, ordinary man.

There seems to be no let up on the State Engineer fight. Between him and Senator Langford there is an old grudge, but "Ben" puts it in another form and says he is neither use nor ornament to the State. He takes in his $300 per month and tells the people he is making irrigation maps which will be of great use in the future. But Langford cannot see it in that light, and wants his scalp; but "Ben" will not be able to get away with it this session, and he has no chance. It would be better if he could only keep quiet on the floor, for he accomplishes simply nothing by his flow of gusto. It is always well to remember the old adage: "A close mouth makes a wise head if there is any substance in the inside. I have a great regard for the gentleman, but it is painful to hear him talk."
